ABE FRANK'S KENWOOD STAKES.

The fact that a big stake race was to be decided yesterday drew out a large gathering to Washington Park. It witnessed a fair day's sport. The track was in a deceptive condition owing to the splendid system of drainage, which draws off the water fast. The footing was cushion-like and, while it favored mudders naturally in the first two races, was getting hard enough thereafter to suit fast track animals. This constant changing of its condition kept speculators on the edge of uncertainty, although the card, all told, was run pretty well to form.

The Kenwood Stakes lost a lot of its interest by the declaration of Allan-a-Dale, many of those present thinking he was certain to add the big prize to his list. With the McDowell colt out of the way, the contest looked to be a foregone conclusion for G. C. Bennett's great and consistent colt Abe Frank, who justified the confidence placed in him by the public by carrying off the stake in a big gallop. Only five went to the post the absentees being Eddie Busch, Ed Austin, Memnon, Allan-a-Dale and Lucien Appleby. Abe Frank, with that big sweeping stride that has so often carried him to victory, easily took command at flagfall and was never afterward in trouble, winning hands down by two lengths from Pentecost who beat Sir Oliver two lengths more for the place. Pentecost, when Winkfield went to the whip, swerved and zigzagged all over the track but was clear enough all through the stretch not to interfere with the contestants behind. Herodiade, in going that was thought to favor him, ran a dull race, finishing outside of the money.

Star Chamber and Monarka had a merry tilt of it for three-sixteenths of a mile in the fourth race, the latter getting the verdict by the shortest of margins. Wild Pirate was outrun the entire journey.

The sprint race went to Martimas, who had about all he wanted to get the verdict from Vulcain, who closed on him with vim in the last sixteenth. Anna Bain held a good lead to the run in where she tired badly and gave it up.

The "pikers" were thrown into amazement when they saw Plum Tart breeze home in the first race at odds of 200 to 1. She laid back of Ishtar and Quality to the run in, where she went to the front in a jump, and gradually increased her lead to the wire. Only a few taking flyers had a bet down on the winner.

The hottest finish of the day took place in the last race when Hard Knot, Leo Newell and Scotch Plaid passed under the wire on close terms. The first named swerved badly in the last fifty yards toward the inside rail and this came near losing him the race. Leo Newell finished stoutly and would have won in a few more jumps. Scotch Plaid hung a little in the closing strides.

Although the track is sure to be heavy this afternoon, the card presents many attractive features, main among which is the prospective meeting between the two American Derby winners, Pink Coat and Sedney Lucas, in the mile and a sixteenth handicap that comes fourth on the day's program. If Robert Waddell had been in also it would have proved a remarkably drawing feature, but as it is the meeting of the two local celebrities will be viewed with great interest. This is not saying that either will win, for there are some other horses engaged at lighter weights that can run fast on a muddy track. As to Robert Waddell, with both the Sheridan Stakes and Great Western Handicap before him this week, owner Bradley no doubt thinks he has enough to do.

Good horses are in all the well filled races today and in view of the probable track conditions it will not be in the least surprising if long shots capture a share of the purses.

AN UNSAVORY ATTACK.

It is reported that warrants were served yesterday afternoon on President Young and Secretary Howard of the Washington Park Club, and on several bookmakers as well. The warrants were issued by Justice Bushnell of La Grange and are alleged to have been sworn out by ex-representative Walter Lantz. Constables Dean and Heavey handled the writs. The entire animus of the affair was not disclosed, but it bears all the earmarks of an attempted hold-up. Attorney Smith, representing the Washington Park Club, is reported to have said: "It is a blackmailing game and some one will go to the penitentiary before we are through with this case."

MR. BELMONT ON RACING.

Hon. Perry Belmont recently returned from a trip to England where he saw Volodyovski win the Epsom Derby for Mr. Whitney. In a recent interview he talked in interesting fashion of conditions affecting racing at home and abroad. In the course of his remarks he said: "I will say that during recent years the American turf has greatly improved, and there is no reason to fear comparison with the racing on the other side, but everywhere there is always need for the greatest vigilance, and there is always room for improvement."

"In the main the English racing men and those on the continent have accepted such of our ideas as have proved valuable. Every one knows that in England, France, Austria and Russia the American jockeys are winning the majority of the important events this year. Although they have many imitators among the foreign jockeys, there is still a very active demand for American riders. English and continental owners are constantly writing to this country to engage them."

"When our jockeys first went abroad with their ideas of riding, which were wholly at variance with the accepted solid and upright seat of the English jockey, the people there were inclined to ridicule them. But now one sees the familiar crouching position of the American, away up on the neck of his mount, on every English racecourse, and frequently on those of continental Europe. The American jockey's seat seems to take many pounds of weight off the horse. The idea, which originated and was developed entirely on this side, brought our riders first into prominence, fame and money following afterward. The riders over there at first were resentful to the innovation, but were finally compelled to adopt the new method, with some modifications."

"To the American it seems strange that no training takes place on foreign race courses. The training grounds are entirely separate. It may be that the American exercise boys and jockeys, who practically live upon the race courses here, when it comes to riding in the actual races show much greater confidence. This has given our riders an important advantage on the other side."

"All our jockeys have been graduated from the stable. They have started in as stable boys, have developed into exercise boys, and as they showed adaptability and capability have been given regular mounts. At our tracks any one can see the boys working out horses at almost all times of the day, and all their training is had on the same courses as those on which the actual racing is done."

"On the other side, however, the regular tracks are not used for training purposes. Such Winner—B. f. by Pillarist—Sugar Plum. Went to post at 2:30. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won easily; next three driving. Plum Tart came away with a bound at the last eighth post and won in impressive fashion. Arian, all tangled in the early stages of the race, moved up fast down the last quarter. I. Samelson was stopping badly in the last sixteenth and just lasted long enough to get third place. Jack Rattin could not get into his stride until after the first quarter had been run when he picked up his field one by one and was closing at a great clip at the end. Ishtar stopped almost to a walk in the last eighth after showing prominently to the head of the stretch. Quality ran well for a half mile and then retired.

Scratched—25989 McChesney, 105; 26408 Julia Junkin, 107; 26376 Landseer, 100; 25493 Wing Dance, 100; 26225 Moabina, 100.

Winner—Ch. h. by Candlemas—Biggonet. Went to post at 3:00. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won in a hard drive; second easily. Martimas moved up on Anna Bain at the last eighth and passed her easily, but had to be driven to the limit to stall off Vulcain's bid in the last sixteenth. The latter closed with force, but was not quite able to beat the winner. Anna Bain ran well for five furlongs and then stopped palpably. Boney Boy ran well for five furlongs. The entire field swung wide at the stretch turn to get to the good going.

Scratched—26349 Sevoy, 119; 26379 Burnie Bunton, 86.

Winner—Ch. c. by Hanover—Cheesestraw. Went to post at 3:30. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Abe Frank was easily the best and the result was never in doubt. Pentecost swerved all over the track in the last quarter when Winkfield went to the whip. Herodiade stopped badly in the last eighth and swerved slightly under punishment. Sir Oliver closed strong, nipping Herodiade on the post. Jaubert easily outran the first half, came fast in the last sixteenth and ran a fair race all told.

Scratched—26095 Ed Austin, 118; 26316 Eddie Busch, 118; (26225) Memnon, 115; (26345) Allan-a-Dale, 118; 23971 Lucien Appleby, 118.

Winner—B. f. by Prince of Monaco—Narka. Went to post at 4:00. At post 10 seconds. Start good. Won in a long hard drive; second easily. Monarka and Star Chamber hooked up for a hot tilt down the last quarter. It looked in the last twenty yards as if the Dunne colt would prevail but he hung just a shade in the last few strides and bore in slightly toward the inside rail. The decision was a close one but Monarka's nose was clearly in front passing the wire. Wild Pirate, always up well, tired in the last quarter. The track was drying out too fast to suit him.

MR. BELMONT ON RACING.

a thing there would not be permitted for an instant. The stable boys and jockeys work out their mounts on the downs, where all the exercising takes place. There neither horse nor rider ever gets near a regular track until the time for going to the post in a race. It is an event with them to get on the track, as they plainly indicate by their manner.

"The superiority of the American jockey is, of course, well established now, and attention is being turned to the American trainers. In England there is undoubtedly a belief among racing men that our trainers are superior. They are generally men of better education and better qualifications in every way.

"The American trainer is a somewhat older institution on the other side than the American rider, but he has forced himself to the front as rapidly if not as ostentatiously. American and English horses developed under their eyes and methods of our trainers have been wonderfully successful of late, and this state of affairs is rapidly extending to France also. The English, French, Austrians and Russians are today studying the methods of our trainers very closely and are following them in many ways. The field over there for American trainers is very large and the openings are attractive. Thus, notwithstanding the many who have gone over already, it is expected that others will follow."

"Is there any way you can suggest by which our racing can be improved?"

"So far as it is possible, and whenever the racing associations can afford it, I think the turns on our racecourses ought to be modified."

"Probably you know that the French Jockey Club, since its foundation in 1865, up to the present day, has had a rule prohibiting the running of two-year-olds before August 1. This is in striking contrast with the conduct of such races in this country. Here we think nothing of sending out youngsters to the starter's flag early in the spring. Such a rule would hardly do in this country, and I do not advocate its adoption; but its existence for so long in France shows that the racing of two-year-olds early in the spring might reasonably be discouraged here. This is especially true on the tracks of the North.

"The English have shown a tendency to follow the course of the French, although there is little likelihood of such a radical rule being adopted on the British turf. There is a tendency in America to start the youngsters at work too early in life, and it might be wiser to wait until they are a little better seasoned."

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Concerning the grand filly Endurance by Right, a Lexington, Ky., exchange says: "Conflicting statements have appeared at different times as to the breeder of Endurance by Right. Early Morn, dam of Endurance by Right, was purchased by Milton Young at Messrs. Woodard & Shanklin's December sale in 1898, in foal to Inspector B. Endurance by Right was foaled at McGrathiana the following spring and was sold in Mr. Young's consignment to Woodard & Shanklin's sale of 1900. She was purchased by W. S. Barnes and was sent to Memphis early this spring to be put in training. Her trials there were so satisfactory that J. W. Schorr endeavored to purchase her outright, but as Mr. Barnes had purchased the filly with a view of using her in the stud he offered Mr. Schorr her racing qualities, which offer was accepted about ten days prior to the opening of the Memphis Spring meeting.

Winner—Bik, h, by Duke of Montrose—Bow Knot.

Went to post at 4:55. At post 3 minutes. Start good. The first three were driving hard. Hard Knot took what seemed an easy winning lead at the last eighth, but Scotch Plaid and Leo Newell closed so fast on him that he had to be driven out to the last ounce to win. He swerved badly toward the inside rail in the last fifty yards, and this came near losing him the race. Scotch Plaid hung in the closing strides. Little Martin was not strong enough to do Leo Newell justice. He lost ground by taking an extremely wide turn at the head of the stretch. Leo Newell was probably the best. Moses fell out of the race at the half and then closed strongly. Evelyn Byrd was rank for seven furlongs and then gave it up.

Scratched—26287 Cambrian, 111; 26380 Bowen, 101; 26350 G. W. W., 94.

Overweights—Moses, 1 pound.

that was truly impressive. Six horses started and Kilmarnock finished second to that great horse Santo, by Queen's Birthday—Merry Wife. The American-bred Foxhall won the Gold Cup in 1882, and since then such horses as St. Simon, St. Gatien, Isinglass and Persimmon have been first in this important race. Kilmarnock, 4, is a brown colt, by Sir Dixon—Miss Used, and should carry off some of the rich prizes of the English turf before the close of the season. Mr. Whitney did not do as well at Ascot last week as Mr. Keene did nineteen years ago, but it pleased him to know that he had run second to so fast and stout a horse as Santo. The cup distance is two and a half miles.—Turf, Field and Farm.

The nineteenth volume of the General Stud Book of England brings the history of the British thoroughbred down to the end of the year 1900. The question of the admission of American and Australian horses to the Stud Book was referred to the stewards of the Jockey Club, and they decided that each candidate for registration should possess eight or nine known crosses of pure blood, tracing back for at least a century, and that the performances of the horse's immediate family on the turf should be such as to warrant belief in purity of lineage. With so many American and Australian bred horses now running in England, some action of this kind became imperative.

The jockey record in England up to and including June 14 makes the following showing as to the principal riders:

Twelve American jockeys have now won 115 races here between them this season. Altogether seventeen of them have ridden in 713 races, the riding fees for which (at 5 guineas for a winning mount and 3 guineas for a losing one), total up to $12,437, irrespective of what the jockeys get in the shape of salary and expenses.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Mr. Whitney is much in love with racing, and spends most part of these summer days at his recently purchased Garretson House, adjoining his stables at the top of the new seven-furlong chute at Sheepshead Bay. He is frequently on the track in the mornings to see Rogers work his horses, and shows himself greatly interested in their doings.

Lady Juliet, bay mare, foaled in 1894, by Spendthrift—Van-a-Clar, by Barnes, died at Coldstream, the farm of J. E. Delph, a few days ago. Lady Juliet was a very good race mare, having met and defeated the best of her year, including the great Imp. Lady Juliet had serious trouble in foaling recently, the foal dying.

John Cooper, a bay horse, foaled 1891 by Deceiver—Kitty, by Uncle Vic, the property of A. B. Maginnis, New Orleans, died recently at his owner's farm in Louisiana. John Cooper had been in the stud and Mr. Maginnis has ten living foals by him. John Cooper was a good race horse and his progeny out of good mares should show well.

Banastar has been fired and blistered, so that we may not expect to see him racing again this year. Ildrim is in training again in Tom Welsh's string, and fast rounding into racing condition. Imp too has been working in the Wimmer string and will soon be ready to race.

Col. W. S. Barnes, Melbourne Stud, has sold to Julius Bauer the bay brood mare Middlemarch, foaled 1886, by Billet—Betty Lewis, by Uncle Vic, out of Maga, by Knight of St. George, for $2,000. Middlemarch is the dam of Lady Didain, Little Chris and others of merit.

Archie McIntyre, the American jockey, made his first public appearance in France June 21 and won his only race, the Prix de Pepinvast, at Maisons Laftite, on Damysus, at 9 to 2 against, beating the favorite, Ismene, at 5 to 2 against, by three lengths.

The Doncaster Cup, won in England by King's Courier, has been received by Colonel and Mrs. James E. Pepper at their home in Lexington, Ky.

The three-year-old filly Katherina, by Goldfinch—Katrina, by Mortemer, has arrived at Elmendorf, where she will be put in the stud.

Newton Bennington has bought the racers Kilogram and Dr. Riddle and will campaign them at the Fort Erie meeting.

P. O. M., Chicago, Ill. Anthracite was scratched in the third race at Washington Park on Monday.

THE LAWRENCE REALIZATION.

In a review of racing matters immediately interesting to New Yorkers the Sun of Monday says:

"The meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club at Sheepshead Bay will close on Thursday. It has been remarkably successful, not only in point of attendance, but also in the high quality of the sport. On the Fourth there will be a card of unusual attractiveness. It will include the second part of the Double Event of $10,000 for two-year-olds, the Lawrence Realization Stakes for three-year-olds and the Independence Steeplechase. For the Double Event there is a list of eligibles of such class that a great struggle is assured. The Realization, which is the richest three-year-old event of the year, is the talk of the turf now. The only regret is that Robert Waddell is not eligible, for with the American Derby winner at the post there would be a definite answer to the question, which is the best three-year-old of the year? Nine out of ten turfmen are ready to concede the fact that James R. Keene's Commando and Conroy are at the head of the three-year-old class, but the wonderfully consistent running of Robert Waddell, under conditions both favorable and unfavorable, makes it compulsory to class him with the best.

"It is roughly estimated that the Lawrence Realization will be worth close to $25,000. Among the foal entries are Commando, Conroy and Olympian. Commando will probably start, as he has been working well during the past few days, and on Saturday he did a mile and a half in 2:40 with plenty to spare. Conroy has not been used much of late, as his lameness has required plenty of rest. Olympian, of course, cannot be considered. If Commando is fit turfmen predict that he will win quite easily. But he will be up against a big field, something he has not experienced this year. Other foal entries are:

"L. V. Bell's b. c. Orderer, by Order—Extract; A. Featherstone's ch. c. Mortallo, by Knight of Ellerslie—Moss Rose; J. L. Holland's ch. c. The Golden Prince, by Prince of Monaco—Cassilla; J. E. Madden's ch. c. Lancelman, by Henry of Navarre—Lack-a-Daisy; A. H. & D. H. Morris' ch. c. Smile, by St. Florian—Holiday; Green B. Morris' ch. c. Bedeck, by Star Ruby—Bedotte; and b. c. Vitellius, by Star Ruby—Tyranny; C. T. Patterson's b. c. All Green, by Knight of Ellerslie—Lizzie Pickwick, and R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s b. f. Lady of the Valley, by St. Saviour—Lady Violet.

"Among the yearling entries which will probably go the post are: R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s b. c. The Parader, by Longstreet—Presense; W. C. Whitney's br. c. Black Dick, by Sir Dixon—Merdin and b. c. Collegian, by Sir Dixon—Vassar; S. Sanford & Sons' b. c. Chucanunda, by Laureate—La Tosca; G. B. Morris' b. c. Gold Spinner, by Goldfinch—Red Spinner; Richard Croker's ch. c. Bellario, by Belvidere—Madge Stuart, and J. H. McCormick's br. c. Sweet Tooth, by Conrad—Too Sweet.

"Blue Girl's victory in the Great Trial Stakes on Saturday only increases the doubt as to the question of supremacy between the champion Sir Dixon filly and the crack two-year-old colt of the year, Nasturtium. From appearances they will not come together for some time, possibly not until the Futurity. Turfmen have been divided in opinion on this point ever since Nasturtium was beaten by Blue Girl in the Great American Stakes on June 8 at Gravesend, when it was plain to a majority of the spectators that Nasturtium was so seriously fouled that he was knocked out of all chance of winning, though at that he finished second to Blue Girl. There might have been a meeting between the colt and the filly in the first part of the Double Event on Suburban day, but Blue Girl was scratched at the last moment, the explanation being that she was suffering from a slight attack of rheumatism. There was another possible meeting between them on Saturday in the Great Trial, but at a late hour Nasturtium was withdrawn because he had a coughing spell in the morning. Though naturally disappointed, race goers are content to wait until they have seen these wonderful two-year-olds do battle and decide which is the other's superior in a fair, square contest. When they do meet it is safe to say that the betting will be red hot. Whether Blue Girl can defeat Nasturtium or not, the fact remains that if the Sir Dixon filly starts in the English Oaks of next year many racing enthusiasts will expect her to repeat the triumph of James R. Keene's Cap and Bells.

"The defeat of Ethelbert on Saturday by Star Bright is attributed to two causes. The first of all, turfmen consider Ethelbert a much inferior horse to what he was a year ago. His owner, Perry Belmont, however, believes that the son of Eothen will be himself again after a long rest. Mr. Belmont has accordingly decided to have Ethelbert fired and blistered and turned out of training for the rest of the season. He thinks the horse's ankles are too weak to stand further hard work on the track. The second cause of Ethelbert's defeat appears to have been the masterly jockeyship of Nash Turner on Star Bright. The latter outgeneraled O'Connor at every stage. Some persons were inclined to believe yesterday that had Turner been in Ethelbert's saddle he could have ridden that horse to victory just as handy as he did Star Bright.

"Incidentally the temporary passing of Ethelbert brings to mind the number of crack thoroughbreds that have gone wrong this year. Clarence H. Mackay's Banastar, cut down in the Brooklyn Handicap, is a cripple. Kinley Mack, winner of the Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps last year, has gone to the stud. So has Standing, another flyer in his day. Ballyhoo Boy, of which great things were expected after he won the Futurity last season, has turned out to be a 'roarer' and will never run again. Verily the turf loses four stars in these racers.

"On next Saturday the Brighton meeting will be inaugurated with the Brighton Handicap, in which all the cracks are expected to appear. Indications point to a more successful meeting than has ever been held at the Beach."

Winner—Ch. m, by Rossington—Heckla.
Went to post at 3:00. At post 16 minutes. Start poor. Won driving; second easily. Nan Dora was clearly the best and won after getting off poorly and being under pressure all the way. Castillo had lots of early speed and did well until the boy let go of his head to draw the whip. Tom Gilmore did his best. Clara M. could not keep up after the early pace. Scratched—26329 Jim Turner, 95; 26358 Mace Russell, 95.

Winner—B. f, by Lamplighter—Ada Ban.
Went to post at 3:30. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won cleverly after a hard drive. Sister Sarah ran an unkind race all the way and had to be hard driven in the stretch to get the lead. She finished sulking. Bandrol set a hot pace, but stopped when the pinch came. Sister Sarah seemed to cross Maggie Clopton in the stretch and caused Givens to pull up. Maggie Clopton might have been second but for this. Kegel is apparently of slight account.
Bandrol, show, 2 to 5. Maggie Clopton, show, out.

Tobe Paine did his best and ran a fair race, closing strongly. Hi Kollar was off badly. Sam Lazarus, off badly, too, had no chance. Clay Poynter has evidently gone back.

John Morton would have won in another jump. Curd Gillock improved considerably over his last out. Elsie Barnes showed speed, but died away to nothing. Early Bird ran a fair race and closed strong.

Went to post at 5:03. At post 10 minutes. Start good for all but Klondyke Queen. Won easily; second the same. Zonne simply outclassed the field in the going. He came from last to first place on the turn. Judge Steadman, slow to get to going, did not seem to like the mud, though he ran over a lot of tired horses at the end. Orris could not negotiate the hill. Joe Doughty did his best. Dominis was not strong enough to stand the strain of the going and stopped.
